Would you like to “Give Back” to Africa?

So many Africans can use a helping hand. While designing your safari, we can include a short or long interaction with the local people who truly appreciate the “helping hand”. For a quick give back experience, clients can stop at an orphanage or rural school and deliver school supplies or clothing. For longer interaction, we have sent teachers who spend half of their trip teaching in a school and the other half on safari. Volunteering to assist with community activities such as building & painting and health care are just a few other ways people can help!
